MONDAY CLASSES & MONDAY HOLIDAYS

by David Kiefer, Registrar

It has come to my attention that some of you may not be aware of the situation regarding Monday holidays and class meetings.

It has been a long-standing Fuller policy that if a class meets only on Mondays, the professor may choose to meet on a Monday holiday if the class as a whole agrees to do so. However, students who choose not to attend for any reason cannot be penalized in any way for missing the class.

Last year, the Academic Cabinet decided that, for purposes of class meetings, Monday holidays end at 5:00 p.m. Therefore all Monday classes which meet at 5:00 p.m. or after can and should plan to meet. The earlier policy continues to apply to daytime classes.

Winter quarter 1993 has the following Monday holidays: last week's Martin Luther King Day and President's Day, February 15. If your class will be meeting on this day, please be sure to contact the appropriate office well in advance to arrange access to your classroom on the holiday.

ACADEMIC ADVISING NOTE:

NEW M.A. THEOLOGY PROGRAMS

Last week we told you of several new 96 unit M.A.T. programs - in addition to these, a new 72 unit Master of Arts in Christian Leadership Degree is now in place. It is designed to meet the needs of organizational people who have 2-3 years experience behind them, e.g. lay leaders seeking to enhance their ministry and leadership skills - without interrupting their established career track. Can you think of people who would benefit from this program? Tell them!

DISCOVERING YOUR GIFTEDNESS

BY DEBORAH KEHLE
M. DIV STUDENT /SPIRITUAL FORMATION
INTERM OCC

"Who me? Preach? No thank you, that's not my gift. Oh, then you want me to teach Sunday School? Uh, I'm not sure that's my gift either. So, what do you think my gifts are? That's a good question. I'm really not sure."

How often have you heard this sort of conversation, or said these words yourself? If you're like me, you may have some ideas of your strengths and interests but are afraid to call them your "gifts." Being in seminary doesn't necessarily help either. For in every class there is someone smarter than you, in every preaching practicum there is a better preacher than you, and in every counseling class there is a better counselor than you. In light of all the many talented and gifted individuals on this campus and in our lives, it is easy to begin to question what God is calling us to do, and what God has already gifted us to do (1 Peter 4:10). Unfortunately, it is possible to get a degree from Fuller without ever taking a class which helps you to discern what your gifts are. So, if you are interested in exploring areas of giftedness in your life, don't miss the opportunity to join Norvene Vest and the Office of Christian Community for an experiential seminar on "Discovering Your Giftedness." Norvene is a spiritual director, author, and a founding member of the Center for Spirituality-West. The seminar will be held in Payton 101, January 29, from 1-5 p.m. Reservations are requested. Call x5322 and leave your name and box number to register.

PARKING: WE'RE TRYIN', WE'RE TRYIN'!

Parking tickets have become a menace to just about every student who comes from more than 500 yards away from campus to get an education. If it's not fines, then it's the nuisance of playing musical cars every two hours. Who's to blame for this grave insufficiency of spaces? The poor parking office clerk who listens to you complain? Her boss? No, says Margie McKenna, Director of Auxiliary Services and the one ultimately responsible for parking at Fuller. The problem is city-wide, she says; no business or institution in Pasadena is without parking problems.

Whereas Fuller's parking space is well within Pasadena's standards for parking user ratio, there are far too few spaces on campus or for rent in the vicinity than can accommodate the sheer quantity of students who look for a place to park on any given weekday. Students, however, are not the only ones: spaces allotted for staff, administrators, and faculty (red and green markings) are also overloaded by the demand.

McKenna has systematically approached every landowner in the blocks surrounding our campus about renting parking spaces. Some rent to us and some don't - she still comes up short. The temporary parking lot to be constructed sometime in the next year behind Payton (site of old Copy Services) will help some, but will have to be divvied up among residents, employees, and students. All other available space on campus is accounted for.

In an effort to assist students with their parking needs, McKenna has some suggestions especially for those staying the whole day here. She reminds students that both the Scottish Rite Temple (on Madison between Walnut & Union) and the Church of Religious Science (corner of El Molino & Corson) offer about 15 spaces for Fuller students with yellow permits. Lake Avenue Congregational Church has graciously offered 40 spaces in one of their many lots (corner of Villa & Hudson) FREE for Fuller students (no permit necessary). Besides these Fuller arrangements, students can always park at the Ace Public Parking Lot (corner of Union & Los Robles) for $2.50/day.

McKenna also advises students to take advantage of various other options such as: sharing a space with a resident student whose spouse may vacate a space during the day; carpooling and bus passes. The Auxiliary Services has information and would be more than glad to help you with any of these options.

As always, the ASC welcomes your input in this or any area of concern. Give us a call at x5452 or come by!
